HI-VIZ LIME YELLOW ADVANTAGES 3.0

Aerostich was the first company in the world to introduce Hi-Viz Lime Yellow motorcycle rider's jackets and suits. The year was 1998, and most people actually laughed at them.

Wearing Hi-Viz Lime Yellow gear is different than wearing fluorescent hi viz garments. Fluorescent pigments are those which react to invisible light wavelengths and seem to vibrate, but they don't fluoresce under man-made lighting, so the effect doesn't work indoors or at night. Only in sunlight. And over longer terms people sometimes don't like being around the 'glowing' effects of fluorescent colors because they are more visually fatiguing when viewed continuously.

Our garments are High-Viz Lime Yellow, not fluorescent hi vis. Human eyes prefer natural-occurring colors long-term, and this is the most highly visible natural (non-fluorescent) color available. On a bike it's helpful to be as conspicuous as possible.

Writer Bob Higdon was an early Aerostich Hi-Viz Lime Yellow adopter. Of his bright new jacket he wrote "Collects dirt faster than anything I've worn since diapers." He's still wearing Hi-Viz, fifteen years later. And even dirty with years of hard use and thousands of miles of road-wear, it's still effective. Firefighters also commonly wear Hi-Viz turnout gear that has faded and darkened from years of work and soot and smoke exposure. Even dirty it remains more visible than other colors.

You would not believe how funny everyone (riders and non-riders alike), thought this color was when we first began making Hi-Viz Lime Yellow garments. I became a 'believer' about ten minutes into my first ride. It's hard to quantify how traffic reacts to a motorcyclist moment-by-moment, but almost immediately I had the definite feeling that more of the surrounding motorists saw me. Over the years there have been lots of funny experiences — like being mistaken for an EMT or fire fighter, too. Many Aerostich Hi-Viz wearers report stuff like this.

One wrote: "I gotta tell yah, I just love this Hi-Viz jacket. I ride about 30,000 miles a year and this thing gives me a feeling of "False Security". I noticed right off the air space around me seemed to increase by 30%. Cars move a bit further from the dividing line. And what's the best is when I'm coming up behind someone, once they look in their rear view mirror and see me they pull over to the next lane. I'm sure they think I'm some kind of emergency vehicle or something. Then as I pass by with my tail and ears wagging in the wind (suction-cup helmet mounted), they must figure they've been had. Sincerely, Robin R. Haywood"

Another customer, after a typical testimonial, added this: "P.S. Deer still come bursting out of the woods onto the road but some have a hoof over their eyes due to the HI-Viz"

Nowadays all kinds of brightly colored riding gear is available and this is a very good trend. We had a lot of fun introducing Aerostich Hi-Viz Lime Yellow to a mostly black and gray world many years ago. Back then it was just as weird and geeky as the first Roadcrafters themselves were.

Today's ever-more-crowded roads and more-distracted and isolated automobile drivers are two reasons to consider wearing highly visible gear. All Aerostich Roadcrafters, AD1's and Darien's use a specific Hi-Viz Lime Yellow (Fed. Spec. #595-23655. This color was first developed for use in municipal safety applications. Research showed that fire trucks painted with this were up to 300% less likely to be involved in accidents.)

Choosing an Aerostich Hi-Viz Lime Yellow color option will insure that you'll be more clearly and easily seen everyone around you when riding in all sun, overcast, and low light environments.

The World's Coolest Ride

Ever been miserable? Ever been wet and cold, and had to hide under a bridge?

Better to be fast and nimble. Cooler to go farther away, looking cool and feeling cool. Knowing you can accomplish these things. Showing to yourself (and others) your able-ness. And strength to be of service.

As great as it is to accomplish such things, it's sometimes even cooler to simply ride more regularly within the fabric of your everyday life. Short or far, back and forth to work, in and out of parking spaces and traffic. It can be harder to fit a motorcycle into your everyday routines than it is to head out for a spin on a Friday night, or take Saturday off and do a track event, or a week and to go to a rally, or a month to a bucket-listed destination, or half a year (or longer) to ride around the world.

When you ride almost every day there are a bunch of benefits, but sometimes you do look like a dork. No matter what you wear, or how cool your particular bike is. Café style? Artful chopper? Bad-ass Harley? Brave Adventure GS? Bad-boy stunter? Fastest-on-the-treet Busa (with extended swing arm and purple neon)? Luxe-dresser/bagger/Wing? Dirty bike hooligan in the city? Whatever. You still look like an idiot to some, because everyone around you has gone to the default: Their cars. Safe, comfortable, practical and easy. They all profile you as a motorcyclist. Sometimes admiringly,...but often not-so-much.

Perhaps they are bored and will make up a story about you...simply to pass traffic time. And it will always be story about you, not the bike: A rich-y spoiled playboy. Or old hippie still stuck in their youthful fantasy. Or simply too stupid. Or emotionally damaged. Or the testosterone kid. Or a big-city urban bad-ass with a smaller you-know-what, compensating. Or a too short guy. Or a too fat guy. Or dyke-y. Or some dumb hillbilly. A hick. An abuser. Or abused as a child. Biased attitudes, all. Or perhaps you are someone who was raised within a supportive, clean-cut, well-adjusted, healthy multi-generational motorcycling family, right out of one of those nice Honda ads for dual-purpose motorcycles?

- Get off any bike and walk into a store or workplace with gratitude, your sense of humor and a little humility.
- Ride there because it makes you feel better, clearer and sharper in ways science can't yet fully explain.
 - Ride because it's a real virtue to move across the infrastructure via a few hundred pounds of processed resources, rather than a few thousand pounds.
 - Ride because we were made to be risk-managers. Because successful accomplishment of that makes us better.
 - Ride because it's fun.

Ray Blank, the recently-retired VP of American Honda's motorcycle division, a daily rider and multi-Aerostich suit owner wrote this: "Frankly speaking, an average sized guy in Roadcrafter looks like a doof. We (the collective mc illuminati) transcend this and, with a snap of the secret handshake, make it cool. But only amongst us...(You cannot) sell Aerostich main line products without PUTTING them in vogue. You have to do something like it. You can't depend on us users. Its too damn slow."

You are all we have.

How-to tips:

1. Wardrobe of wide-range of gear conveniently placed.
 2. Easy in-out garage, driveway, etc.
 3. Multiple ways to carry stuff.
 4. Attitude, attitude, attitude.

Developing fluency is fun. And fluency only comes with frequency. These days many don't feel like they even need to drive (or ride). Why not? Everything anyone needs to know is .002 seconds away on Wikipedia or Google. Why study or practice anything? Because acquiring fluent real-world skills feels so good. Because it's what we were made to do. Getting better scores on a video game or working through a crossword is no different than learning to weld well, frame a wall strong and straight, wash dirty dishes in a sink right, solve technological or intellectually complicated riddles, or ride a motorcycle competently. At the end of the day we all need good walls, welds and the ability to get ourselves from A to B quickly and efficiently. Not to mention having nice clean dishes. That's where the fun of living is.

AEROSTICH ROADCRAFTERLIGHT

A cooler-wearing, totally-waterproof, unlined, all-new design about two pounds lighter than the original. Ideal for transportation, commuting and utility riders. An all-new zipper technology and flap design provide a totally waterproof one piece riding suit. The lightweight outer fabric is a durable 200 Denier GORE-TEX® Air Texturized High Tenacity Nylon which provides reasonably good abrasion resistance. And like the original, it slips on easily over your street clothes (in ten seconds or less) and maintains all of the time-tested design innovations. New features include seven water and draft resistant seam taped pocket and vent zips, a two position snap down collar, two rare-earth magnetic collar positioners, a water-resistant inner wallet/phone/iPod pocket, vertically adjustable impact pad positions (at the elbows and knees), and a hidden chest pocket mini-carabiner helmet holder.

Inside are loop areas for optional accessories: Upper chest loop areas for two Inner Chest Pockets—or a Chest Impact Pad—or a Chest Insulation Pad (Standard and Electric/Heated versions). The elbow, shoulder and knee armor loop areas accept TF3 and TF2 impact pad systems and will also accept the full range of other TF pads, as well as the Roadcrafter's other optional back and hip pads.

The RoadcrafterLight's outer fabric provides about two-thirds the abrasion resistance of the standard Roadcrafter, and when outfitted with optional impact pads, offers a level of rider protection similar to the DarienLight range. Without its optional impact padding, it packs ultra small and provides all-weather rider comfort.

Choose Grey with Hi-Viz elbow/shoulder/knee areas, Hi-Viz with Grey, Grey with Black, Tan with Black or Black with Black. Machine washable. 36 regular and 38-52 short, regular or long. Imported.

411 INFORMATION:

How to be a motorcycle commuter, sort of approximately in general order of some kind of priority. On any bike without added luggage, saddlebags or racks.

1. Know the weather as soon as you wake up. Look out bedroom window if it is daylight already, and have an indoor outdoor thermometer. If you want to get fancy, also have a barometer, and a weather radio [page 101] or use commercial TV and Radio weather reports.
2. Have more than one weight of rider's glove. I can get along with two. Elkskin and Insulated Elkskin Ropers [pages 52 & 53]. For some commutes and in some climates you may need more. Locate on a dedicated shelf.
3. Set up a place near your bike dedicated to your gear. See wall hangers [on aerostich.com] for helmets and the shoulder saver hangar [page 25].

AEROSTICH ROADCRAFTER ULTRALIGHT

The ultimate lightweight, 100% waterproof one piece riding suit for the everyday urban commuter. Like the original Roadcrafter, this suit slips on easily over your street clothes (in ten seconds or less), and maintains all of the favorite time-tested rider innovations for unsurpassed function and a fine-tuned fit. The lightweight HT200 Denier GORE-TEX® fabric has an abrasion resistance about two-thirds that of the standard Roadcrafter, but when outfitted with optional TF3 impact pads, provides superb rider crash protection. New design innovations include: completely waterproof zippers, snap down collar, rare-earth magnetic collar clasps, waterproof inner wallet/phone/iPod pocket, adjustable impact pad positions, inner pocket hook for accessory pocket and a hide-away mini-carabiner helmet-holder clip in the chest pocket. Additional options, including Integrated Boot Raincovers, Chest Impact Pad, and Chest Insulation Pad (Standard and Electric/Heated versions) can also be incorporated into this cutting-edge suit. Roadcrafter durability, craftsmanship and attention to detail in an ultra-lightweight, cooler-wearing version for real-world, everyday riding needs. Choose hi-viz, black, grey or tan. Standard machine washable (with removal of collar magnets). Men's 36 regular, 38-52 short, regular or long. TF3 impact armor sold separately. Imported and .

4. Have a couple of mid-layers at-the-ready, available at the same dedicated location as the rest of your gear. For my commute and weather I have a microfiber shirt [page 43], a 100wt microfleece pullover [page 30] and an Electric Warmbib [page 37].

5. Keep a backpack or messenger bag at-the-ready. I use both, but for different missions, and they are kept together, on a small chair out of the way in the corner of the dining room/kitchen area. Backpacks [page 64-65] and Messenger Bags [page 60] are faster, simpler and easier to use and more reliable than bungees, cargo-nets and straps.

6. Have extra ‘overload’ carrying capacity. A Lightweight Portable Bag [page 67] is always inside both my Courier Bag and my Backpack. And there’s a pair of Adjustable Bungees [page 75] always attached to the bike itself. Both are essential for grocery stops and other mid-commute procurement errands.

7. Have a one piece riding suit. There’s a mail-order company that makes a pretty good one called ‘Aerostich.’ The suits are too expensive but one of them has been my every day, every mission over-suit coverall for more than twenty-five years. They last a reasonably long time and make it possible to ride to almost any destination, in almost any weather condition. For my small-town, low-speed, mostly surface-street commute, the Roadcrafter light model [page 8] or Ultralight [above] works best.

8. Have rain booties [page 27] or over-boots [on aerostich.com] for bad weather days. If the rest of you can ride dry in rain, you’ll need these, too.

9. Have a tiny garage door opener remote. (Skip if you don’t have a garage w/power door.) There are three (at aerostich.com). Mine is on a mini-carabiner that attaches to the shoulder strap of my backpack. And transfers quickly to a riding suit pocket or the Courier Bag strap if needed.

10. Have face-shield cleaner station. I keep a bottle of Protect-All [at aerostich.com] and a roll of paper towels on a shelf near my helmet. This is used about once a week.

11. Have fun, every day, no excuses. [Page 50]

AEROSTICH ROADCRAFTER TACTICAL

Edgy like old-school coveralls...in black something a covert assault team might wear. Or like one of those old leather one-piece racing suits from the Hailwood (and earlier) era. This suit provides good protection with less weight, more freedom of movement, and an industrial appearance. Especially after a few miles of wear.

It's fully seam-taped 500 Denier Cordura® GORE-TEX® fabric, features a tightly woven Supernyl lining, making it easy to slip on quickly over your street clothes, and includes all the pockets, vents, armor and details of the original Roadcrafter's design, but without the two-color ballistic nylon areas. There's still plenty of crash and abrasion protection for commuting, touring and knock-around riding, without the Futureama look. As with all Roadcrafters, you'll be ready to ride in just seconds—step-in, close the waterproof zippers and ride. Packs away smaller when you arrive at your destination, too.

Six oversize strategically placed, removable TF3 impact armor pads are integrated into the shoulder, elbow and knee areas to maximize protection. Additional rider-influenced features include: high-visibility Scotchlite™ reflective; a bunch of strategically placed, external and internal pockets; provisions for optional arm and thigh map window pockets, optional integrated rain boot covers, hip pads, a back pad and a chest protector; underarm and back vents; side-entry zippers for access to your street pants; a comfortable ultra suede collar; and a variety of adjustable tabs and zippers that allow you to fine-tune the fit. Dozens of custom sewn size alterations are also available for personalized fit and performance, too.

ABOUT THE NAME "DARIEN"

A year after our first Darien prototype was complete, another company came out with a similar three quarter length leather touring jacket called the "Dakar". We were anxious to go ahead, but the Darien's final development and introduction had to be postponed because of the success of our Roadcrafter one and two piece suits. Our resources were (and are) limited, so the Darien's release was delayed for several years. The leather Dakar jacket was named after a town in Africa that once was the finish line of a tough race. We wanted a name that indicated the All-American origin of our jacket, conveyed motorcycling adventure, and sounded close enough to the name Dakar to invite comparison.

The Darien Jungle is an unbelievably hot swampy area in Eastern Panama of about a hundred miles in length. It is located between Columbia and the Canal. It is considered impassable by any type of vehicle. It is also the last incomplete section in the Pan American Highway (once promoted as the greatest civil engineering project of the 20th Century). It was supposed to be a paved road from Alaska to the bottom of South America. Political changes have made it unlikely that this last missing section, known as the "Darien Gap", will ever be completed.

A few adventurous motorcyclists have challenged this jungle. In the '60s Danny Liska walked through, shipping his bike around. In the '80s round-the-world traveler Helge Pedersen loaded his R 80G/S BMW in a canoe and paddled it thru. So did Ed Culberson, except he spent a bit more time hacking out an overland path for his R 80G/S. Others have gone through, but they all had lots of help from the peoples living in the area. Some riders have died there, as each of these men almost did. All three have written about their adventures. Both Ed and Helge helped test and refine this jacket.

So if you like grandiose highway projects leading to adventurous places; if you need a strong jacket for facing extreme weather and unimaginable adversity; then you'll understand why we named this jacket Darien. It honors the still-incomplete Pan American Highway and the riders who have challenged its Darien Gap.

AEROSTICH DARIENLIGHT JACKET

An ultralight Darien would make a great urban riding tool (we said to ourselves). We build it just this way, with a tough, HT200 Denier Nylon GORE-TEX® fabric. Although it offers less crash and abrasion resistance, it's so much lighter that it's great for camping, skiing, touring, commuting, and general wear. The DarienLight retains every feature of the standard Darien jacket. More comfortable in high and low temps (over 90, below 30) than the regular Darien. Hi-Viz, Black, Grey or Tan. 36-54. USA.

DARIEN V.S. DARIENLIGHT

TEMPERATURE CONSIDERATIONS: In extreme heat (90°f and above) the "Light" wears a little cooler than the standard Darien, but the comfort difference is quite small. In extreme cold (20°f or lower) the Light's 200d Gore-Tex fabric flexes slightly easier than the standard Darien's 500d Gore-Tex fabric. If your intended applications do not involve regular wear at one of these temperature extremes (snowmobile or skiing uses?) the comfort differences are not enough to be a significant consideration.

ABRASION CONSIDERATIONS: The Darien Light's 200d Gore-Tex fabric is a lot more abrasion resistant than regular denim jeans, but for higher speed crashes, this fabric is about a third less abrasion than the standard Darien's 500d Cordura Gore-Tex fabric. The Darien Light is perfect for urban riding, dual-sport riding and casual touring. It doesn't provide enough abrasion resistance for frequent higher speed roadwork. (For the highest-performance sport-type riding we still recommend Transit leather suits and the original Roadcrafters.)

CRASH REPAIR CONSIDERATIONS: After a typical crash at highway speed, Darien Lights are usually not worth repairing. In all known cases 'testers' have not reported injuries as a result of the garment's sacrificial destruction. This may partly be due to the Darien's impact armor systems, which add another layer of 500d Cordura behind each pad and help to absorb severe impacts and abrasions. (Being uninjured after a big crash...with gear hanging off one's body in shreds and a helmet cracked in half and the gloves and boots both ruined...this is a successful post-accident result.)

SUGGESTED APPLICATIONS: We are comfortable recommending Darien Lights for most kinds of riding activities, despite their sometimes needing to be replaced after a higher speed crash. But for long journey's to areas outside of the United States, the standard Darien is better. If a crash occurs in some remote location it's good to be able to continue with as little inconvenience as possible. A more crash-shredded Darien Light might require complete replacement, which may mean an extra delay.

AEROSTICH FALSTAFF JACKET

If you fancy the cozy suppleness, organic "oilskin" waterproofness, and uniquely experienced look of classic, traditional 100% English waxed cotton gear, but also want modern venting, TF3 technical armor and Scotchlite™ reflective areas, then the Falstaff ought to do it, mate... The Falstaff's authentic fabric is exactly the same English waxed cotton as the original gear uses. It is highly durable and exceptionally comfortable. We've added a full sewn-in cotton lining with two huge inside pockets, a soft ultrasuede faced collar, and an oversized cargo pocket behind the back reflective. Making it more comfortable to wear in hot summers are the Falstaff's underarm and back vents. The TF3 armor helps provide crash performance, and the abrasion resistance of waxed cotton (when compared to the Darien's 500 Denier Cordura) is better than you'd think. 36-52.

Reflective Delete #224 $50.00

BLACK BROWN GREEN YELLOW ORANGE

A NOTE ABOUT YELLOW...unlike black, green, brown & orange, the yellow color of waxed cotton fabric is translucent enough to clearly reveal the contents of items carried in pockets and some of the internal construction details of the garment.

AEROSTICH WAXED COTTON COURIER BAGS

A classic combination merging the timeless style and rugged durability of Waxed Cotton, with the exceedingly functional design of Aerostich Shoulder Bags. Constructed with a seamless bottom for maximum strength and durability, these 100% cotton bags feature the waterproofness and hard-wearing toughness of a traditional English waxed cotton outer fabric, with a reinforced yellow waterproof inner lining. Also inside the bag is an organizer pocket and "clip-on" key loop. Every bit as waterproof as their Cordura brethren, these bags are softer and more supple, feeling like an old favorite the first time you strap it on. The 2" nylon carrying strap adjusts quickly and easily with a cam lock buckle for a secure, comfortable all-day fit. A large flap closes with both a wide strip of hook and loop as well as adjustable buckles to accommodate small or large loads. Visibility is assured with a wide strip of 3M Scotchlite™ reflective running across the flap. Letter (9"x3.75"x9"/12"), Dispatch (12"x7"x12"/18"), Courier (12"x7"x18"/23"), Parcel (14"x9"x18"/26"). AEROSTICH FALSTAFF PANTS

The look and feel of motorcycle nostalgia combine with modern styling, performance and function in these traditional 100% English waxed cotton Falstaff Pants. The authentic fabric is highly durable, exceptionally comfortable and offers an organic 'oilskin' waterproofness to keep you dry, debonair, and dashing as you motorbike carefree through the countryside. Featuring jeans-cut styling, these overpants include a full sewn-in plaid cotton lining, making them a perfect accompaniment to the Falstaff Jacket. The two front pockets have hook and loop secured cover flaps and the one back pocket sports a strip of hook and loop to keep contents in place. A convenient flapped front fly and adjustable waistband, with an included Aerostich Money Belt (#1854), combine with a diamond gusseted crotch for long-wearing comfort. Full length side zips with inner and outer flaps insure easy on-and-off convenience and severe weather protection. Other features include bent knees for greater freedom of movement and increased comfort and visibility with large 3M Scotchlite™ reflective ankle adjustment tabs. Not as waterproof or abrasion resistant as the 500 Denier Cordura in the Darien Pants, the shaped, removable TF3 knee pads offer excellent crash protection and the century-plus performance of traditional waxed cotton riders clothing speaks volumes about the functional durability of these pants. Tally-ho. Brown or Black. See web site for alterations and sizing. 32-44 waist, regular or long.

"I recently returned from my Canadian tour with the orange Falstaff jacket and it was simply perfect.

"In the rain and sun and as my blanket in a tent... the Falstaff did everything I needed and more. Once I got used to the many pockets, finding my cell phone and camera and keys became second nature. Thank you for the opportunity to purchase your first and #1 orange jacket in San Francisco [at your pop-up store there]. I have grown to love it."

Mr. Subjectives' go-to Aerostich gear:

In combination with a Transit jacket I recommend:

—Aerostich AD1 Light pants, in either the tan or gray color. These are also available in black, and hi-viz yellow. On warmer days I wear them over Aerostich cotton shorts (see below) and at other times I wear them over jeans or khaki chino's. They are waterproof, breathable and provide fairly good impact and abrasion protection. They are also lightweight and easy to remove at any destination. [See page 40.]

—I add optional Aerostich TF5 hip pads for increased protection. [Set #1105 $50.00
TF5 Hip Sleeves #1110 $30.00]

—On warmer days I wear a pair of green 6" inseam Aerostich cotton shorts beneath the AD1 Light pants. We make them here. They need to be washed a few times to soften break them in. [See page 45.]

—For wear without the AD 1 Light pants (Transit jacket over 'street pants' only), I wear either Aerostich Protekt Jeans [page 38] or Khakis [page 39]. When I reach a destination where I'll be for a while I remove the knee impact armor, which is doable in a few seconds without removing the pants.

—For daily, mostly surface street commuting in this small town, I wear a one piece Roadcrafter Ultra Light suit in Tan color. These are also available in black, gray and hi-viz lime yellow. [Page 13]

—A slightly more abrasion-resistant version of the One Piece Roadcrafter is the Tactical if your commute involves freeways at high speeds. [Page 14]

—On my feet I usually wear Combat Light boots with a sizing insole that has a little more arch and deeper heel pocket than the standard insole. [Page 20.]

—On my hands I mostly wear either the Elkskin Roper or Competition Roper models. [Page 52.]

—For my neck on colder days I like to wear the Aerostich Silk Scarf. [Page 57.]

AEROSTICH TRANSIT

An all-new type of waterproof and breathable leather gear that outperforms traditional leathers. The Aerostich Transit Suit is made from an entirely new material—GORE-TEX® Pro Shell Leather—and provides higher levels of protection and comfort, is completely waterproof (no rain suit needed!) and wears noticeably cooler under a hot sun. The unique built-in hide technology is a breakthrough in toughness and durability, too. An Aerostich Transit suit will last longer than normal leathers and doesn't soak up moisture so it never gets heavy. Always dries immediately after riding through severe rain. The suit contains a complete set of carefully fitted yet easily removable TF^S armor systems—elbow, shoulder, knee, hip and back pads—to provide superior impact energy absorption with less movement restriction. And the leather itself is ultra-supple, luxurious and flexible. So no matter what your local riding conditions and plans, or what the immediate climatic situation, you'll be a lot more protected and comfortable. Technically, the Transit's hides contain a new, unique, proprietary solar-reflective pigment that helps the suit wear up to 30° cooler than traditional leather gear, and this same dye technology also assists in ageing resistance so it will last longer than regular leathers. Only the finest cow hides are selected for this complicated processing and tanning technology. During manufacturing, powerful water repellants are added to the hides in two stages—so it's permanently waterproof. The jacket's main zipper is an all new molded-tooth waterproof type unlike any you've seen, and this zip increases the Transit suit's everyday convenience and wearing functionality. Millions of micro-vents across the surface of the leather insure that during high activity the moisture on your skin will evaporate right through, even though the suit is worn fully zipped and closed, and, it's—uh—waterproof. Did we mention that already? The Aerostich Transit Suit is completely waterproof. Yup. Jacket sizes 38-52. Pants sizes 30-44 waist. Short, Regular or Long. Imported.

The tougher your riding, the better this boot will feel. Combat Touring boots are as strong as the bulkiest specialized off-road footwear, yet are designed to fit easily under your pants for everyday wear. As soon as you put them on you will feel more support and protection than ordinary street boots can offer. Combat Touring boots are manufactured exclusively for us by Sidi using the best materials and their most experienced bootmakers. They feature quality full grain leather throughout, a Davos competition motocross sole, Scotchlite™ reflective in the heel gusset, generous internal ankle and toe padding, and a special padded collar at the top. The inner speed lace/cordlock setup with micro-adjustable arch buckle and outer hook & loop calf closure insures a protective, comfortable fit. TLECO MID-LAYER FLEECE TYPES

Aerostich TLECO Fleece garments use the latest, high performance fleece and mid-layering fabrics available. When you are riding, these layers add warmth without the weight and bulk of traditional insulations, and their advanced breathability and moisture wicking properties keep you dry and prevent overheating. Featuring built-in durable water repellent (DWR) finish, each provides comfortable, functional qualities that are great for casual/off bike use as well, and all are machine washable. Ranked here in order of warmth:

TYPE 1: SOFT SHELL (Titanium): This beefy fleece blocks 98% of the wind, and offers faster moisture wicking and improved breathability. Outside is a tight, smooth, mat-finished nylon woven face and there's a warm, cozy high loft fleece inside. The Soft Shell is excellent for off-bike wear because of its luxurious lofty inside, and wears amazing as a mid-layer because your riding gear slides so easily against the smooth fleece as you move. It's in the middle as far as packing small goes. Our warmest/most advanced fabric.

TYPE 2: WIND BLOCKER (Blue or Cayenne): A warm, soft, and comfortable all-purpose two-sided fleece that features a thinner micro velour outer face with a moisture wicking mesh back side. It is slightly thinner than the others, but it blocks 98% of the wind, and offers 2X faster moisture wicking than other windproof fleeces. Its hidden stretchy membrane offers notable breathability for all day comfort. The thinnest, most packable of these three, it also wins a silver medal for warmth.

TYPE 3: WIND PRO (Grey): A new, denser, "super fleece" that is extremely breathable yet provides 4x better insulation and draft resistance than traditional fleece, with increased durability. This medium thickness two-sided 200 weight grey heather fleece features a soft, smooth midweight low velour face outside, and an even softer, fuzzier velour back side. It provides the thickest, bulkiest insulation and is the most breathable of the three.

AEROSTICH TL^{TEC} FLEECE JACKET

Breathable, high-warmth, low-bulk jackets that will become favorites the first time you put them on. More than common "outdoor" fleece jackets, these are fitted specifically to wear under riding gear. The collar is cut for more comfort with a helmet strap and we've trimmed down and forward rotated the sleeves for less bulk. Longer underarm ventilation zippers better match Roadcrafter suits, and durable Lycra bindings at the hem and sleeves stop drafts without absorbing water. The torso is shorter in front and longer in back for a better fit, and the sleeves are usefully longer, too. Zippered inside and outside chest pockets secure valuables like cell phones and wallets, and zippered side pockets are placed slightly forward for easier access. A quick-draw inner chest pocket is ideal for sunglasses or a bandana. It's the best riders' fleece jacket in the world, and one of the best for general wear, too. Machine wash. S-XXL. USA.

AEROSTICH KANETSU AIRVANTAGE®

The biggest challenge to the efficiency of any electric vest is the problem of conducting the heat from the elements to the rider. Traditionally, this has meant a closely-tailored (and often uncomfortably restrictive) garment for maximum heat transfer, or ultra-high wattages. The AIRVANTAGE® insert solves this comfort vs. function dilemma with an inflatable bladder. By blowing more or less air into it, the overall closeness and consequent heat transfer efficiency of the garment body can be adjusted. Also, because air is an effective insulator, the warmth of the vest is greatly improved—the air alone extends the range of temperatures that don't require using power for heat and reduces drafts. A genuine advance in heated garment technology. Includes fused power cord and lighted switch. Black WINDSTOPPER® shell with a durable nylon lining. Pat. #7,891,019. Specify QuiConnect 2, SAE or BMW connectors.

AEROSTICH KANETSU WINDSTOPPER® ELECTRIC LINER

Electrify your jacket's performance with a Kanetsu liner. Modeled after the standard Darien liner, the Kanetsu provides an under-jacket environment that's always a lot warmer than the outdoor ambient. Cozy micro-climate temperatures which can sometimes be up to 30° higher than outdoor ambients. Liner is reversible for all wearing situations and features a built-in self storing pocket, a convenient cord storage pocket, and a lighted on/off switch on a coil-cord. Three heating circuits provide warmth everywhere...through the sleeves, body and collar. And the sleeve areas use a version of the resistance heating wire that is slightly 'hotter' than in the Kanetsu vests use, due to this liner's slightly looser fit. The liner packs down small, too, for easy packing. Ride warm and comfy, always...experience efficiency and quality in an electrically heated liner. Includes: fused, lighted coil cord hookup and power switch. 75 watts / 5 amps*. Specify QuiConnect 2, SAE or BMW connectors.

"As expected from an Aerostich garment, the Kanetsu's overall build quality is superb. The Kanetsu lives up to Aerostich's reputation and was the best of all liners tested. Also...the Kanetsu did an admirable job of blocking windchill. Its Windstopper exterior allowed for a lower setting on the controllers to achieve the same equivalent feeling of toasty warmth as the other two liners on higher settings. Heat was evenly distributed, with no dramatic cold or hot spots detected."

Stuffing newspaper underneath your jacket during a cold ride helps, but it's uncomfortable and doesn't add heat. This is electric-warm, windproof and packs small. It provides enough added heat so your torso and core stay warm and your body keeps blood circulating to your extremities. The smooth outer layer is black GORE-TEX® WINDSTOPPER® and the side toward your body is a comfy micro-fleece. The Kanetsu radiant heating layer is between. This bib will stay in place under your jacket perfectly because the inner fleecy layer is grabby and the outer WINDSTOPPER® layer is slippery. A comfortable fleece collar closes with hook and loop at the upper chest to keep drafts away and position the bib securely. It self-stores in a built-in pocket. (There's never a newspaper around when you need one, anyhow.) Patent #D641,543S. 30 watts, 2.5 amps. Two lengths: Regular to 5'9", and Tall over 5'10".

Electric Warmbib / Review by Eddie

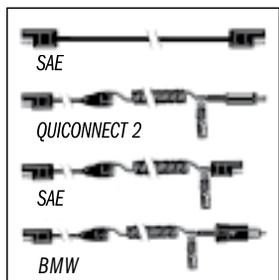

"I have been using the Warmbib for three years now and I could not be happier with it. I have been all over Australia on my Suzuki GSF1250S including the snowy mountains where temperatures were down to -10°C. Toes were cold but body remained warm. Bib does not seem to affect alternator output."

AEROSTICH PROTEKT JEANS

Old school straight leg jeans with a new trick: Knee armor accessed via hidden outseam zippers allowing the oversize pads to be removed or replaced in seconds while wearing the jeans. No other riding pants do that. Otherwise this is the classic denim jeans straight leg design, carefully made of 100% heavy duty, unwashed 14 oz cotton denim, with hidden double knee and seat areas of highly abrasion resistant Breathable-Waterproof High Tenacity 500 D Nylon (...similar to the Gore-Tex Cordura in Aerostich suits). These areas are backed with soft 100% cotton lining fabric for "commando" comfort. These are also a bit heavier-duty than the more common 10-12 oz jeans stores carry. The optional TF³ knee impact armor is soft and flexible until impact when they instantly stiffen to absorb energy. The harder the impact, the stiffer they resist. Unwashed denim like this needs several wearings and a wash or two to break in. They will shrink to fit, and wear much longer. The stitching is double and triple where needed, and a crotch gusset means ease and comfort in the saddle and as you move around. With the armor removed these jeans look and feel just like any regular jeans. So ride to your job, take out the pads, work all day, put the pads back in and ride home. They'll quickly become your favorites, on and off the bike. Made here in America, at least for the moment. AEROSTICH ARBORWEAR GUSSETED CANVAS PANTS

Heavy duty pants designed for tree climbing. Sounds like ideal wear for casual trips on the bike, yes? No substitute for specialized protective gear of course, but a lot better than regular jeans. Made of strong, pre-washed 12 oz. canvas and featuring a double-layered panel from the knee to mid-thigh, with hook & loop closed access for kneepads, these exceptionally well-made pants are both comfortable and durable. Your Favorite New Pants.

"I've always wanted a pair of pants like these to wear into work on warm days under nothing but a button-down shirt and Darien Light jacket. Something that looked exactly like the khaki 'Dockers®' street pants I usually wear under a Roadcrafter. Comfortable pants (especially on hotter days) that would provide semi-decent abrasion protection in case of a crash. Pants with big protective knee pads that would go in and out very fast...while sitting right at my desk. A pair of pants that were all-day comfortable at work worn with a shirt and sometimes even a tie. Maybe a sport coat, too. Occasionally.

"So we modified several pairs of actual 'Levi's Dockers®,' making small adjustments and changes to each pair. Eventually, voila — we had some very plain-looking khaki pants that were comfortable all day at work, and for riding, and were not jeans.

"Getting all of this correct took us about a year, squeezed between other work and projects. Then finding someone in the USA with this type of pant-making experience — someone to produce a nicely sewn final version — took another year. But finally it all came together.

"I'd wanted a pair of pants exactly like this for more than ten years. Everyday wearing pants that were comfortable commuting, reasonably protective, and that looked ok at work.

"These are those pants."
—Mr. Subjective 7-13

These pants will help you be more productive, work happier and ride more, no kidding. Designed for the urban commuter, these highly constructed, American made, 100% Cotton twill khaki pants are equally at home in the office, out on the town or riding down the road, thanks to the hidden knee armor pockets and durable, triple layer construction. This option is soft and flexible until impact when it instantly stiffens to absorb energy. Remove the pads in seconds once you arrive at work and these khakis look and function like standard-issue office wear. A triple layer knee and seat area include a hidden 500D Cordura middle layer combined with an additional inner cotton liner for enhanced abrasion resistance. UTILITY

Kidney belts go back to the beginning of motorcycling.

Bikes had terrible (or no) suspensions, and roads were rough. Early styles were leather and buckled. Some were home-made and others were custom-decorated with rivets and studs by their owners. The idea was simple: to hold one's guts in place better, and support one's back a little better, reducing fatigue on long rides.

Even with today's smoother roads and modern suspension technologies, kidney belts still make a difference you can feel after a long day of riding. The 'Gold Belt' was the first modern design. Its pioneering combination of stiff ribs, absorbent-and-breathable cotton canvas, strong stretchy Lycra and large areas of hook-and-loop make it easier to wear, more comfortable, more effective, and able to last through years of long rides.

You'll also find them easier to roll up, pack and carry than modern plastic body-armor-inspired belts favored by MX off-road riders. The original Gold Belts are nearly the same today as the belts worn by riders like Malcolm Smith, JN Roberts and many others in early Baja 1000s and other long-distance endurance events. Today, Gold Belts are still the most honest, modern, well made kidney belt available. They provide ideal support for all dual sport and adventure riders.

The more recent patented Back-A-Line goes beyond a kidney belt to add a unique back-support mechanism. The developer and patent-holder of the Back-A-Line wrote this story for us explaining his product's history:

"I'm not an orthopedist, an osteopath or a chiropractor, but when I experienced excruciating back pain 18 years ago, they couldn't help. Some background – I was rear-ended by another car in a way that did not seem all that life-changing. In fact, I felt no effects for three days.

And then I felt the full force of an invading army on my spine, radiating down my left leg, rendering me in mind-numbing pain and nearly unable to walk.

I tried all the standard interventions – 1) the orthopedist who started to talk about surgery immediately, 2) the osteopath who tried to work his magic and, finally, 3) the chiropractor, who gave me a few adjustments and sent me home with, what was then, the state of the art in back supports – a white, elastic 'girdle'. Nothing helped and nothing changed, at least not the level of pain.

So I tried a few of the 'folk remedies.' I tried the rolled-up towel – too soft. I tried a board – too flat. So I took a piece of Styrofoam and shaved it to make it curved and also fit into my lower spine. I secured it with a typical pants belt and wore it – and a later molded prototype – for two years until scheduled surgery. (Remember, it was caused by an automobile accident and the insurance company wanted to close the file.) Because I was not only walking, but was also skiing and playing golf, the surgeon ordered an MRI on the morning of surgery. Three hours later, I was on the operating table with the anesthesiologist one inch from my arm and the doctor came in and said, "I've never seen this in all my years of medicine, but you're going home!"

I got off the table, thanked him, and went back to my old life – pain-free. It turned out that the 'curved, firm' piece of Styrofoam corrected my old spinal mechanics (postural habits), and stopped me from further damaging my spine while, at the same time, creating new muscle memory to maintain good posture even when I wasn't wearing it. Bottom line, I have been pain-free for the full 18 years, and, at 68 years old, that would be surprising if no car accident had ever occurred."

Regardless of if you experience chronic back problems or not, either one of these back pads will make your next long ride easier and more comfortable. Give one a try.
—Mr. Subjective 5-13

Allows your back to work naturally, providing exceptional support and back pain relief for even long, strenuous rides. A great off-bike tool to encourage a healthier back too. Sweat-resistant, washable and breathable wick-away fabric. Black. Small (27-32" waist), Medium (31"-36" waist), Large (35"-40" waist), XL (39"-44" waist), XXL (43"-48" waist).

MICROFIBER PACKABLE SHIRT

If you do not yet have a microfiber shirt, give this one a try. It's a quality shirt and a nice bargain. The great thing about all microfiber shirts is if (when...) you spill a soft drink (or whatever) all over yourself, simply rinse and wring them dry and you're immediately ready to be a klutz all over again. Try that with a regular t-shirt and you'll end up wearing a wet t-shirt for the next several hours. This long wearing shirt has several useful pockets and a nice clean design. In hot weather it's cool to wear and provides good sun protection. It's great to have a microfiber shirt along for hot weather, as a change of clothing, or for an extra layer on a cool evening. Tan or Grey. Imported. M-XL.

#1864 $47.00

Microfiber fabrics feel like cotton, wear like iron, and drip dry very fast. Plus, they pack smaller than regular clothes. All provide great sun protection and hot weather comfort, not to mention that they look great and will last nearly forever. (A white cotton tee shirt has a UPF around 5. Dark tee shirt colors are a little higher. These microfiber shirts have a UPF in the 20-30 range.)

"I love microfiber pants. On trips of any length more than a couple of days I take one pair of them, one pair of jeans, one pair of shorts and one pair Darien pants. This is a mix-and match combo for all temperatures and social situations. Normally I wear the Darien pants over the shorts, which are cotton and can double as underwear. Preferred shorts are like boxer underwear except they have pockets. If it is a little cooler, I'll add the microfiber pants under the darien pants. If it is real cold, I wear all three pants together: Darien, microfiber, jeans. For formal off-bike evenings, I wear the microfiber pants. For less formal off-bike wear, the jeans." —Mr. Subjective 4/07

WEARING SHORTS UNDER RIDING SUITS & RIDING PANTS

In the past we have recommended wearing long sleeve shirts and long pants underneath Aerostich suits. We still do, but after seeing thousands of crash-damaged suits, we're more relaxed about wearing shorts and a t-shirt underneath. Especially for casual riding, touring, and traveling. There are trade-offs, but wearing shorts under Aerostich suits can make warm weather rides a lot more comfortable. The shorts can be cotton, synthetic or blended fabrics. Shorts are also great at any roadside stops or destinations after your suit is off. Combined with tall riding boots they make an attractively hip look, right? —Mr. Subjective (February, 2006)

The form-fitting, temperature-regulating shorts are made of Merino wool in an eight-panel design, translating to a fatigue-free ride via proper support in all the right places. Merino wool is naturally moisture-wicking and dehumidifies your body, so you won't find yourself sitting in a pool of sweat no matter how long you ride. These things really work, and they look and feel good, too. Give your butt a break. M (31-33), L (34-36), XL (37-39).

BAMBOO ¼ ZIP JERSEY

There's no arguing...women and men agree a Bamboo ¼ Zip Jersey is must have kit for on and off the bike. It's a great layering piece, light and soft, with a practical cut great for wearing under a button-up shirt on a cold day. An excellent base layer and pretty darn comfy on it's own too. The women's version is cut, well...a little more girly with a bit more of a form fitting, um, feature accentuating design than the men's, which is more loose and baggy. The ladies version has thumb-holes at the end of the sleeves too, which prevents the sleeves from bunching when suiting up and keeps cold drafts at bay, which is a nice touch (sorry guys...deal with it). Both sport a semi-lock zipper that stays in place, and of course all the benefits of bamboo fabric apply: Moisture wicking, anti-odor, natural temperature regulation, UPF 50+ protection and 4 way stretch. 55% Organic Cotton/40% Viscose from Bamboo/5% Elastane. Let them know all fifty states have a totally different view, and have installed signs like these above our busiest and most congested roads to announce and declare: MOTORCYCLES OK. Officially. AEROSTICH ELKSKIN ROPER

Your favorite gloves. You just can't ride anywhere without them. When they finally wear out, it feels like you've lost a friend. Elkskin Roper gloves are a premium work and general use glove design by a sixty year old ranch and work glove company in Washington state. Made of natural tan medium to heavy weight elkskin, they are thicker, stronger and more abrasion resistant than deerhide and they'll last much longer. Built for cowboy and ag work, they're tough enough for barbed wire fencing, yet sensitive enough to accurately handle a lariat. The snap cuff will slightly gauntlet over most jackets or close to let wind in your sleeves on a hot day. The left thumb is equipped with a visor squeegee made of resilient squeegee material.

All California Highway Patrol Motorcycle Officers (and many other depts.) wear Elkskin gloves 8-10 hours a day, week in and week out. You too will experience how right they are the minute you put them on and grab the clutch lever. These are the best gloves for serious combat touring adventures you'll ever wear. They're strong and durable enough to take on everyday rough cowboy and ag work—from handling barb wire fences to accurately directing a lariat, and ultra-comfortable all-day because of their superb medium weight luxuriously tanned natural tan Elkskin.

This comfortable abrasion resistant leather absorbs and dissipates sweat, wears cool, and quickly conforms itself to the shape of your hand. The visco-elastic TF3 impact material padded knuckles make a protective difference in some crash scenarios, and of course, the left thumb is equipped with a resilient visor squeegee to help keep a clear view of the road in damp and rainy conditions. Which Elk Glove?

"...As I mentioned earlier, I do a lot of sport riding and sport touring on a Honda VFR and will do occasional adventure touring on the GS, so I was leaning toward the gauntlet. Would there be any issues with that fitting over the sleeve of a Roadcrafter and allowing smooth rotation of the wrist?"

"Insulation is not really an issue, given that I live in San Francisco and the climate here is fairly consistent - rarely below high 40s or above the mid 80s." —Chuck S. (email)

"Thanks for your question. I wear both versions of the Elk glove. About 90% of the time I grab either the regular or competition Elkskin Ropers. The gauntlet version is also available, but I seldom take it. Probably only because I don't have a sport bike option like your VFR .

"The gauntlet on the unininsulated version of the gauntleted ropers is not lined, so the suede-ish backside of the leather does drag slightly against the sleeve of a textile jacket, but it's not enough (to me) to be an issue. Also, as the gloves break the suede-ishness wears a way slightly so the drag seems even less after a few hundred miles.

"The gauntleted models are slightly more to deal with in subtle, nuanced ways. There are just 'more glove'. The fastest and most unconscious pull-on-and-go is the regular roper. You just snap the wrist snap without thinking and go. Perfect for everyday short-hop, on-and-off-the-bike riding. Next fastest/easiest is the competition model. The wrist strap is much more secure than the snap, but it takes a nano-more of consciousness to manipulate it. For all-day riding, though, I usually pick this one. The gauntlet models add another nano-bit of rigamarole, but for a sport bike rider are probably a better option. These shades of ease-of-use distinction are very slight.

"When I travel I normally take two pair of gloves -- usually a pair of competition ropers for wear most of the time, and the insulated gauntleted ropers [above] or Luxury Cowhide [page 54]. And the triple digit raincovers [pae 26]"

"Last November I rode around Lake Superior with some friends on Gold Wings. I was riding my unfaired bike which has heated grips, but is without hand guards (wind protectors). Temps every morning were about 30°F and the high each day was about 45°F. I had both of the above and switched multiple times for comparison and evaluation. In the end I liked the insulated elk ones slightly better, but it was very close."

"Since that trip (and as a result my experiences on it...) we have slightly increased the insulation thickness of the wind barrier hidden within the backside of the hands and fingers on the insulated elk ropers. Before it was a layer of windproof fabric placed between the wool liner and the elkskin outer. Now it's a layer of thin windproof fleece (fleece laminated to a layer of wind blocking coated fabric).

"The elk gloves are sized by glove sizes, not s,m,l, xl, etc. Basically there are twice as many sizes. For example, both a size 9 and a 9.5 are 'm' graded. So you end up with a more precise fit. A good-fitting glove is as important as a good-fitting shoe. It's the only real difference between an ok glove and a great glove." —Mr. Subjective

TOTALLY SERIOUS BELTS

Say you park on the sixth floor of a large parking ramp when it suddenly comes under heavy attack by a group of militant anti-motorcyclists and the only way out is a 200 yard slide down a lightly insulated power line straight onto the roof of a neighboring building. Would you trust your current belt for that slide? I don't think so! These belts are for those who need to be able to count on their gear in the worst possible scenario. We love them for jeans because they fit very comfortably, look cool in all situations, and are lightweight. In a pinch they can be used as an additional tie-down strap and the fall-rated buckle is easy to use and infinitely adjustable. These types of extreme belts are hard to find in these widths which fit standard belt loops. Simple, classy, and strong, like Bond...James Bond. Lengths measure: Sm. 40", Med. 44", Large 47.5".

These luxurious 100% natural silk scarves are handmade of a soft, dense weave that's perfect for riding. No synthetic fiber is warmer, softer, stronger, or more durable. The Standard Scarf is medium weight silk of sensuous softness, and measures 14"×72". The Competition Scarf is similar to the standard model but two layers thick, and a bit narrower and shorter. It measures 10"×60". Both are premium quality, long lasting silk that will keep the wind, rain, dust and snow from blowing down your neck, and will pack ultra-small in any pocket. These are the Original Modern Messenger Bags

Our "Courier" size messenger bag was introduced in 1985. It was several years before bag companies like Timbuk2, Chrome (and others) existed. And the big outdoor gear fashion companies such as Patagonia and North Face also introduced their versions of messenger bags many years later.

In 1985 there were only two similar kinds available. They were made in very small numbers for professional bicycle messengers. Everyone else wore day packs and book packs. We patterned the Aerostich Courier bag's dimensions closely after this "proven-by-messengers" size.

Early commercial bicycle messenger bags were roughly made of cotton canvas, and had no hook-and-loop (Velcro) on their lids, no reflective material, no strap-length cam adjusters and no side-release flap buckles for oversize loads. Aerostich was the first to use modern materials like Cordura nylon, hook-and-loop, 3M reflectives, plastic side release buckles and strap adjusters.

Aerostich messenger bags are more strongly made than those types widely available at bicycle shops, outdoor stores and college bookstores. And they last a lot longer, too.

One example of a difference between an Aerostich messenger bag and others is how the top flap is constructed. Others connect the inner flap fabric to the outer fabric by an inexpensive 'binding' stitched around the edges of the flap. This is fast and easy, but not particularly durable. Each Aerostich messenger bag flap is first sewn inside-out, then turned right side-out and edge-stitched the same way a dress shirt collar and cuffs are made. It looks 'right' and lasts much longer.

Another example is Aerostich's oversize shoulder pad. It is huge, and really helps spread your load better. This pad is highly detailed and carefully constructed of several materials, too. And if you carry a messenger bag every day, you'll want this pad.

All Aerostich messenger bags are made by a motorcycle rider named Jim. He has been making these bags for about fifteen years. And he rides a black Kawasaki Concourse. There is a difference...

A Mr. Subjective History on Aerostich Messenger Bags

The Aerostich messenger bags are one of my most-favorite Aerostich products. We have been making them for over twenty five years, and they differ substantially from all of the other kinds of similar bags. Essentially, ours are a lot heavier-duty...

I like messenger bags so much because they are so easy to use for urban and utility motorcycle riding. They go on-and-off quick and are versatile. One of these bags hangs empty, near my riding gear so I can grab it whenever the destination involves picking up something, or when I need to carry something fast, without using bungees. Messenger bags are a key technology for motorcycling personal mobility...An invaluable tool.

Our bags were the first ones ever made of a synthetic material (Cordura Nylon and reinforced vinyl). When we began, there were two or three others made of coarse canvas. Ours was also the first courier bag to employ Velcro (hook&loop) anywhere, and to have any 3M Scotchlite reflective, and to use ITW Fastex side-release buckles. What was available elsewhere was crude -- bags made in small numbers in cities like New York, mainly for working bicycle couriers.

About a year after introducing Aerostich Messenger Bags (1986 or 7), I remember being at the Motorcycle Dealernews trade show standing before Motorcyclist Magazine Editor-in-Chief Mitch Boehm, and several other editors, all of us in a small conference room in one of the hotels there,...giving a presentation. And the internet was years in the future still.

"The daypack is dead!" I began, trying to sound as declarative as possible. "The era of the messenger bag is now beginning." I then explained why these still largely-unknown types of bags were so great for motorcyclists. And why they'd rule in the future. And why the Aerostich courier bags were made the way they were. It felt as though we were pioneering something entirely new.

A few years after we started making Messenger bags, some other bag companies started, and they made lighter-weight versions of messenger bags a common college bookstore commodity. And today there are countless other varieties from dozens of companies.

But the Aerostich messenger bag line (by size, the: 'letter', 'dispatch', 'courier', and 'parcel') remains the real-deal and "the original" in terms of function, utility and durability. They are still the very best of this kind of bag available anywhere.

Recently we introduced a wax cotton variation in several colors. And a few years ago we added pink to the available colors of the Cordura models, and developed an optional internal organizer pocket system (available for the three larger sized bags).

What's great about messenger bags is how easy they are to load and wear, how versatile they always are, and how comfortably they carry. You simply put the strap across your shoulder and go. Some of the contents weight usually rests on the saddle just behind you (see drawing above). And to quickly access your contents the whole bag smoothly slides around to your lap. Nothing could be faster or easier.

When you buy an Aerostich courier bag, you are getting a hand-made classic American product, and an incredibly tough, practical, good bag.

"It turns out that my packing skills are better suited for solo motorcycle travel than for crossing the country in a station wagon with my wife. I'm more comfortable sleeping in a campground in a tent than in a hotel suite and I pack more what I need and less what I think I might want in the limited constraints of a motorcycle's storage."

Why We Make Our Own Padded Sleeves and Cases...

"Because the ones in stores suck. Especially for everyday motorcycle and scooter riding. Aerostich padded cases and sleeves are not overly-complicated, or overly anything. They are simple, practical designs, made at our Duluth shop, using a very lightweight yet flexible (but still semi-stiff) open-cell foam, not floppy neoprene. And no redundant zippers or pockets either.

Inside is thin soft polyester fleece laminate. Outside is a lightweight abrasion-resistant slightly slippery twill laminate. And around the edge is a strong Nylon binding tape.

"Slide your tablet or notebook in. It stays there by slight friction against the fit and fleece. Comes out faster and easier, too. If a cover flap is involved it secures with only a few simple pieces of hook & loop. Your device is protected and ready to pack along without extra weight or bulk.

"Lastly, these cases are really durable. I'm still using a ten year old prototype every day. And it's showing only minimal wear." —Mr. Subjective, Aug 2013

Made of soft nylon with a foam padding, this lightweight sleeve has a hook and loop closed top flap and a plush interior. We make these ourselves because we could not find a simple padded, lightweight sleeve made in China. Funny, huh? 🇺🇸

Getting Started: Notes On One's First Bike Trip

PACKING YOUR STUFF...

The first few days of travel dealing with the straps, soft duffels and bags, will teach you if your setup works. The idea is to have things secure, semi-easy to get to, and not too much of a problem to remove or re-load. If it takes twenty minutes every morning to load everything when you are wanting to get going, and twenty minutes again at night to unload when you are tired and just want to be done, it's frustrating.

At least one pack should be easily openable at gas stations or on a roadside, without untying everything else. Into this should go rain gloves, a sweater, a wind shirt, a hat, and anything that you might need handy for varying weather conditions. And if you buy an extra banana or water bottle at a gas stop, it's nice to have enough available space for it there, too.

Soft bags and duffels are great, but in terms of speed and convenience nothing strapped onto the back of your bike is still as easy to deal with as hard pannier bags or boxes. Conversely, no hard bags are as light, simple and compact (and safe if you crash...) as soft bags and duffel's. That's the compromise.

WRITING JOURNALS...

There are two ways I've kept daily logs. If I am carrying a computer, I try to type a few notes in the evening or

MOTOFIZZ CAMPING SEAT BAGS

Everything you'll want to carry (clothing, tent, food and camping gear), fits neatly within these detailed and cavernous seat bags. Outside there's a variety of strap systems designed to secure foam sleeping pads and the like. Across the top, D rings laced with mini-bungees are arranged to hold sweaters, road guides, and things you want to keep within immediate reach. Each end on the medium and large opens for direct loading and inside access. For extra capacity, both ends also expand with gusseted zippers. The medium and large bags also have a removable zippered belt pack attached to one end, and all three have an insulated water bottle holster right where you can reach it. There's retro-reflective areas, a versatile, secure and fast strap-on mounting system, and useful compression straps so your stuff won't get bounced around. Not waterproof, but an included raincover stores inside a dedicated compartment. All of this technology is beautifully sewn with top quality coated nylon fabrics, webbing and other materials. (By a clever optical illusion, this bag won't look big when mounted on your bike.) The Camping Seat Bag is the world's most advanced motorcycle pack. It's an armed F-16 in a field of Cessnas. morning. Usually not more than the basics: Day, Date, Approximate Miles, Location, Weather and anything interesting I experienced or thought about. Some people like to keep exhaustive and detailed expense records, road and turn notations, bike maintenance records and meteorological information. Not me.

If something broke on my bike, I'll note it, and the circumstances involved in fixing it. If I experienced cold, wet or had headwinds, I'll note those things. Perfect weather, too. Later I can fill in descriptions of briefly noted occurrences and scenes from memory, if I want to. If I am traveling light, I use a little notebook and a space pen. No smaller than 6" x 9" and always bound on the left side. Same things recorded as in the computer, but longhand.

It's interesting to note the way one's handwriting changes during the course of a trip. If it is your first-ever on a motorcycle (or on a new-to-you motorcycle), it will be especially good to capture your feelings and ideas. You can only do anything for the first time once. Years from now you may find yourself looking back, and you'll have some idea of the situations you were in, and what you experienced. Some may be embarrassing, but it will all bring back memories and smiles.

The kinds of memories any journal brings back are completely different than the kinds of things a photograph captures. A journal holds what you were thinking, on that day. It helps me to write for some imagined reader:

anyone whom you care about is always good. Someone you'd want to share with, and who cares about you, is the best.

KEEPING LISTS OF THINGS TO DO, POST-TRIP...

The other thing to keep in the trip notes is a record of things about your motorcycle and kit to pay attention to later. For example, list little easily forgotten items like:

- replace lost ear plug bag
- file off rough edge by seat bar
- shorten rear view mirror stem
- buy mini toothpaste

This sort of a list is best kept separately from the daily notes, located above the daily entries in a text file, or on a separate page of an analog journal.

A PERSONAL PERSPECTIVE ON THIS, UH...

I'm just trying to figure these things out the best I can, for myself. I always have a list of things needed on my bike, stuff I'd like to fix, upgrade or otherwise address. And most of my personal Aerostich gear seems to work best after it's a little more worn out and beat up. I go from one day to the next just messing around, and juggling home and work things in not enough time. That's why it always feels so good to finally be rolling away into the horizon...toward somewhere. Time to think, time to wonder, time to ride. (...if you are heading out into back country remote from everywhere, don't forget to take along one of those little digging trowels and some TP.)

Advice on camping stoves

I have a Svea 123 that I purchased in 1972 when I was in college. I used it probably for ten years. It's in my garage today, ready to go inside of a not-really-banged-up-enough Sigg Tourister cook kit.

The last fifteen years I've tried many stoves but always seem to come back to a little Coleman Peak 1, which is similar to the Svea but adds Coleman's well-functioning integrated pump system within the tank. It also isn't fussy about fuel. Any unleaded gasoline always seems to work fine.

We sold the Peak 1 stove for years but last year they apparently became discontinued by the manufacturer. At least that's what I was told by someone here at Aerostich. So I put the Svea 123 into the catalogs to have a similar type for our customers. We don't sell too many stoves, but this is the only one similar to the Peak 1 that I'd ever seen.

At the same time we also added the similarly vintage single burner Optimus, to have a pump-equipped old-school gasoline stove for our customers. Both the Svea and Optimus are now made by the same company, and in Asia somewhere...China, I think. Not in Sweden anymore. But 100% authentic high quality brass and tooling still.

For the last five or six years I've been trying to like the newer kind of stoves with the removable tanks and can't quite get my head and heart around them yet. For a while we sold the MSR version of this type. Whisperlight model, I think. MSR was a pioneer of this kind of stove. I didn't like how the tank connected to the stove so we tried selling a higher-end stove of this removable-tank style from Brunton for a few years. This one also spilled stinky gasoline on my hands also every time I fumbled trying to connect or disconnect it's tank. Which is just what you don't want to happen when you are hungry, tired and about to be handling food.

Now we have the Soto Muka. A few years ago it won a Backpacker magazine award for stoves of this type specifically because it has some kind of new method of connecting the stove to the bottle that doesn't leak gas on your hands. Or rarely. Or is a lot less likely to. A breakthrough.

I haven't tried the Soto Muka yet. I wanted to this past year, but didn't get a chance. I really like being able to siphon gasoline from my bike right into the stove, even though carrying spin-on gas canisters is ultra neat and easy. Gasoline stoves are one more piece of self-containment even though in the real world of USA camping trips this isn't much of a practical factor. It's only about what's in my head. On my Honda 650 I rigged a quick-disconnect on the fuel line to make the refilling go easier, cleaner and faster. We sell the quick-release fittings to do this, and they work perfectly.

Why Portable Chairs are Important

"Not as obvious as it might seem. These small chairs are the real key to great camping experiences. Having one along gives you much more than a good spot to park your butt no matter where you are at the end of the day. They really give you a chance to invite yourself to sit around another camper's fire and share a few stories, gain wisdom and make some new friends. So bring your own chair (and maybe a flask?) and sit down and make some wonderful memories.

"Some specifics: The Kermit chair is by far the most comfortable, beautiful type here. Over the past two decades it's become a genuine made-in-USA American motorcycle camper classic. If you ride a touring bike and have the space, it's still the bomb, but at five pounds it's a bit heavy and bulky for adventurous dual-sport and sport bike rides. Of the others, I like the Mantis best. It's nearly as comfortable as the Kermit but packs much smaller and only weighs a pound and a half. It also sets up and takes down slightly faster and easier. And for extreme ultra-light and super-compact packing, any of the others make great choices, too. Just bring one." – Mr. Subjective, August 2013

THE KERMIT CHAIR

Chances are you've noticed the twisted, broken remains of many a plastic and aluminum discount-store folding chair abandoned or stuffed into garbage cans after rallies and events. Constructed of beautiful oak and aluminum structural elements, with Cordura fabric, the Kermit weighs only 5 lbs. and packs into a 4"x6"x23" Cordura bag. When you are ready for your last folding chair, the Kermit Chair awaits. Blue, green, burgundy, or black.

YELLOW CARDS

Ever wish there was a referee standing by with a whistle to rule on everyday minor traffic infractions? Someone to halt the flow of traffic for a moment to signal out a 'dangerous play'? Slap a few of these magnetic cards on your gas tank and the next time some SUV-driving, cellphone-talking yahoo cuts you off without the slightest hint of consideration, you can toss one of these cards onto their rear panel. Shake off the frustration a little easier, knowing that your point has been made, and that you've substituted the conventional flip-of-the-bird for something with a little more substance. 2"×3.5". Pack of Ten.

YELLOW CARD

This magnet was tossed onto your car by a motorcyclist who felt that you might have been driving in a way that could have endangered their life.

They chose to toss this magnetic note because it can neither damage your automobile, nor affix itself to rubber or glass and therefore will not affect your driving. It serves to warn you.

With thoughtful contemplation and reverence for humanity, we can adjust our behavior to allow for all people to live life.

This is a yellow card. Let's please not let things get so Red.

AEROSTICH ROADKILL COMBAT STICKERS

Sadly, unintentional road kills are part of riding. With a mixture of remorse and pride, gunfighters in the old west notched their gun's handle or barrel after each kill. All United States Armed forces permit servicemen in combat to decorate everything from battleships to assault helicopters with symbols of each kill. These adhesive graphics let you memorialize the demise of smaller creatures or commemorate your own survival after coming up against more formidable creatures. Each 1" tall design is printed on clear adhesive vinyl to withstand years of weathering. Cut 'em out and apply as needed. Enough stickers to decorate both sides of your bike: moose, elk, bear, deer, raccoons, skunks, prairie dogs, snakes, possum, turtles, dogs, squirrels, cats, birds, dragonflies, armadillos, bicycles, pedestrians, motorcycles and automobiles. FLAT OUT! THE ROLLIE FREE STORY

The life and times of a legend. Thoroughly researched and impeccably accurate, this exhaustive 28-year effort began with an interview with Free in 1980 and countless interviews thereafter with those who knew and loved him. A bland historical narrative, this isn't. The author was so overwhelmed by the sheer volume of submissions and material he received after Free's passing, he chose to let the story tell itself. It's also the reason why this book took so long to write. The result is a life story that reads as if Free himself, with the help of his contemporaries, is telling it on his own. Contains many never-before-seen photographs and a bonus CD recording of the original 2-hour interview (!). By Jerry Hatfield. Hardbound, 9"x12", 192 pp., b/w illus.

ROLLIE FREE FRAMED PRINT

If a picture is worth a thousand words, this one is worth ten million. This is the most famous photo in motorcycling history. Rollie Free lying prone along the back spine of a borrowed Vincent HRD Black Lightning with the seat removed. The original photo was taken in 1948 by a speeding car as Free broke the land speed record by going 150 mph on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah. Free had developed his famous 'whatever it takes' riding style in an effort to minimize wind resistance. When his leathers tore in earlier runs, he discarded them and made a final winning attempt wearing only a bathing suit, shower cap and a pair of sneakers. The result was history... We've been after this image for years, and we're finally able to bring you these unique items. The Rollie Free Framed Print is a high quality, digitally restored reproduction with a sepia tone for that extra-vintage look (frame size: 11"x14", image size: 7.5"x9.5"). An Aero/RWH exclusive.

RING SIZING CHART: To find your ring size, cut a piece of paper or string long enough to fit your finger and go over your knuckle, and measure it using the chart pictured here. BONGO BOARD

Take a spin around your basement or den and improve your sense of balance. Lean into the corners, twist a handful of torque, and let your inner ear loose to achieve something that's a lot like what we all do whenever we ride twisty backroads or tight trails. This increases your balance and coordination skills and enhances your riding abilities. A patented two-part independently rotating barrel shaped urethane wheel system (with sealed bearings and a safety retaining cord) provides maximum maneuverability on any surface from concrete to carpet. AEROSTICH MR. HAPPY PUPPET

So your buddy pulls over in a cloud of smoke with a broken chain piled up in front of his engine sprocket and a busted crankcase. Or he throws his new scooter up the street in a cacophony of sparks and shredded parts. Whattya do? Look uncomfortably at your feet? Cringe with empathy? Hell no. You whip out Mr. Happy and lighten the mood with chirpy platitudes such as "Gee Bill, I'm sure we can find a guy to replicate that casting for big bucks." Or "That's OK, that bike was kind of ugly anyway, don't you think?" Chances are that after the rider in question chases you half a mile down the road and pummels you about the head and shoulders he'll feel MUCH better. Be ready with a kind word and light pantomime for any downer occasion. Mr. Happy wants to help. Fits readily in most tankbags. Also good for cheering up rain-sodden rally campsites or bolstering spirits during multi-day bad weather scenarios that have eaten up most of a given vacation or ride.

Ordinary cologne and scented soaps cover up that raw, manly scent. This stuff enhances it. It's a scientific fact that real manly-men ingest cigars and booze 24 hours a day, so if you don't (and shouldn't) this stuff makes you smell like you do. Contains tobacco and hard whiskey smells and is a heck of a lot better for you than the real thing. 1 oz spray bottle.

JOURNEY'S END POSTER

A product of a '50s British safety campaign, this rather alarming 20"x30" poster features a very naughty motorbiker about to take himself and an oncoming car out. It's retro, cool looking, and will totally bum out your non-riding friends, who probably think you're nuts/irresponsible/have a death wish already anyway. Which can be amusing. The rider, doubtless, is headed for a burn-up down the pub with his mates. Like the poster above, this item was conceived in Britain as part of a public safety "programme" during the rocker heyday of the '50s. And it's pretty cool, actually. We've all seen or done a stupid move or two and this is a good reminder to chill. Bollocks. 20"x30".

BIG SID'S VINCATI

Here is a true story about life brought full circle, and the powerful healing influence of a unique motorcycle. It could be any motorcycle, including yours. Growing up in the shadow of one of the world's most respected motorcycle mechanics, author Matthew Biberman spent most of his life distancing himself from the mechanical passions defining Big Sid. Then a near-fatal heart attack stripped Big Sid of the will to live, and son Matthew finds inspiration and purpose reuniting with his father as they share a journey both personal and mechanical, in the quest to build America's first Vincati—half Vincent, half Ducati. What

Matthew has produced here is a remarkable, memorable book. It is as great, wide and deep as anything that's ever been written about, and around, motorcycles. This is an irresistible combination about a compelling step-by-step construction and re-engineering project, and the framing of a mystical and emotional story about life's greater truths. Here's adventure, mystery, romance, philosophy, history, passion and of course motorcycles- lots and lots of motorcycles. Big Sid's Vincati is one of the coolest books ever written about motorcycles and motorcycling. You'll recommend it to others with conviction, saying "You have to read this." Unforgettable. MOTORCYCLING THROUGH MIDLIFE

A brief moto-memoir worth your time, especially if you ride a sport, adventure or sport-touring bike, and spend most of your time on the backroads and out-of-the-way routes. It's by the creator/organizer of 'Motomathon'...an event built around seeking the Nirvana of quick-and-smooth riding, cool backroads, pristine scenery, mountain passes, making new friends...and precise, endless cornering. Through clear descriptions of his personal life-history and on-the-road experiences as a rider the author describes how he got there...his mid-life...with fun and sometimes 'politically incorrect' assessments about the American motorcycle culture and market, various riding sub-sub cultures and social trends, and our overall surrounding cultural, economic and demographic influences. You'll spend a nice hour getting to know him, and will learn a little...and smile. By John Metzger. Softbound, 63 pp.

THE MAN WHO WOULD STOP AT NOTHING

"As I entered the back door of the lobby in Jacksonville and aimed myself toward the dining room, my eye was drawn to some activity on the other side of the glass doors at the main entrance. The exact replica of John Ryan, distinctive Aerostich and all, was dismounting from a GS. But no, this was John, with his impossible I-have-done-what-few-mortal-men-can-do, so-what-are-you-looking-at? Bearing. He inclined his head to pull off a black helmet covered with stickers. I knew that one of them read, 'If I have to understand don't bother to explain,' an inversion of the common dullard's claim 'If I have to explain it you wouldn't understand.' A short time before I was falling backward onto an anonymous print bedspread in a riding-induced stupor in Florida, he had managed to get the engine to light up. It had leaked so much fuel over his left leg during the fifteen-hour ride, covering 929 miles, that the dining-room staff took aside a patron at the breakfast table where Ryan had just taken a seat and asked him to 'kindly remove that man' from the room. Instead, Ryan reluctantly removed the suit and put it outside with the bike.

BODIES IN MOTION: EVOLUTION AND EXPERIENCE IN MOTORCYCLING

Motorcycling's sensations are easy to experience, but harder to explain. How can riding be so exciting and yet relaxing at the same time - and why does this combination make us feel so good? Rather than question it, most motorcyclers and scooterists simply settle into the saddle, turn the key, grab the handlebars, and enjoy the magically uplifting experience.

Here, Steven L. Thompson carefully examines some of the most nuanced aspects of the rider/machine relationship. His research and analytics help disentangle our psycho-biological connection with the kinesthetics of riding from a complex mix of cultural elements surrounding motorcycling. Here are new ideas that can help point us toward a better understanding of how and why motorcycling is important, and why riding has such a powerful influence on us.

In the author's own words, Bodies in Motion "...is written both for motorcyclists and non-motorcyclists, and thus longtime riders will inevitably find some material familiar, though I have tried to ensure that, when covering conceptual ground common to all riders, the context is analyzed to highlight aspects of the commonalities that are usually overlooked or misunderstood...Bodies in Motion thus explores what evolutionary science, psychology, human-factors research and engineering research can tell us about why some people seek certain kinds of automotive activity experiences and others do not. The reason to be concerned about this is more important than just what it might mean to a motorcyclist trying to figure out which bike to choose or trying to explain to someone why he or she chose to ride instead of, or in addition to, driving a car. The overwhelming importance of automobility to our way of life means that human nature, as science can show it to be, is vital to our continuing attempts to cope with the costs that automobility has thrust upon us, along with its benefits." Foreword by Andy Goldfine. Published by Aerostich. Softcover, 6"×9", 400+ pp., b/w illustrations. USA.

REVISED I-94 READER

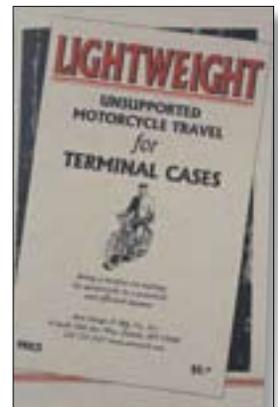

Hundreds of trips along the same stretch of common road—Interstate 94 between Fargo, ND and Minneapolis/St. Paul, MN—would for most be a long, tedious and all-too-familiar boring journey. These nine stories were written over eighteen years and reveal the value of riding more deeply and truly than common 'I rode there' travelogues. For this rider, traveling forth and back (...again and again) was an opportunity for meditation, contemplation, ideas—and a venue for making life's greatest decisions. This is a wonderfully comforting dip into the experiences, feelings, brains and emotions of everyday all-the-time motorcycling. Stories about piloting a road and a life, accompanied closely by the thrum of a BMW r 65 and the essential feelings and experiences of pure motorcycling. By Rand Rassmussen. SHOP CLASS AS SOULCRAFT

A wonderful make-you-smile book by an engaging mechanic/philosopher/storyteller who, after many years of working in various office situations, started a one-man motorcycle repair and restoration business. Could he make it economically and emotionally? Mechanically? This is someone who's thought hard about how the world's continuing expansion of white-collar work has been changing people and society. His book is a page-turning storyteller's tale, saturated with examples of motorcycle repairs and learning experiences which elucidate important ideas about the value of real quantifiable work and how it relates to better personal, financial and emotional security. AEROSTICH ULTRALIGHT BIKE COVERS

Small enough to take on all your road trips, these pack into a built-in self-storing pocket about the size of your hand. Overall, it's half the size of the next smallest full-coverage cover because it's made from a thinner, lighter fabric. The strong opaque 1.1 oz siliconized ripstop nylon is plenty tough and keeps water and dust off your bike...it's widely used in parachutes, sailboat spinnakers, kites and skysails. The integrated elastic cinch cord tightly snugs all covers close to your bike so it won't blow off during a breeze, and additional grommets allow for further binding or tying down. The Aerostich label is purposefully placed at the front bottom center, right on the hem, so it's easy to find the front of the cover. The Seat Saver extends from back fender to handlebars to cover and protect the upper half of your bike—just the seat and instruments and self packs ultra-small. For improving overnight security at the seediest, darkest motel parking lot, the self-storing pocket on the hem of the cover also doubles as a panic alarm holder to scare the pants off of whoever wants to take a peek at what's below. Large size covers loaded GS1100s, Gold Wings and other dreadnought sized machines. Medium fits all sportbikes, standards, dual sports, and sport touring bikes with smaller windshields. Small fits scooters. Seat Saver fits all bikes, covering vital areas of instrument pod, handlebars, gas tank and seat. Black.

SELF STORING

Securing Ultralight Bike Covers

"Aerostich Ultralight Bike Covers have two neat grommets mid-way for a locking cable to be passed through beneath the middle of the motorcycle. But for fast additional security in high-wind situations, and to further-strengthen the cover's 'anti-tampering' deterrent, first pull the elastic hem drawcord tight and lock it in place with its cord-lock. Then stretch the loose end of this cord over the saddle and down the other side of the motorcycle until you can loop over the shift lever or footrest. This will 'capture' some of the cover around the shift lever. After the cord is drawn tight around the bottom of one's motorcycle there is always enough cord left to stretch across the bike and reach the shift lever. Doing this makes the billowy cover fit tight and stops it from flapping around. The technique has kept my Aerostich Ultralight Bike Covers securely attached though some violent overnight storms with very high winds." —Mr. Subjective, 6-13

E-FILL SIPHON

A self-priming fuel transfer system. No matter where you are, this ultra compact system won't leave you stranded for long. Throw away that length of gnarly old hose and safely siphon fuel from any gas-powered device without getting a mouthful or lungful of dangerously deadly toxins in the process...or accidentally spilling the caustic, foul smelling stuff all over you or your bike's finish. This is one siphon that doesn't suck. Simply insert the self-priming end into any non-empty gas tank, and put the other end into the transferring container/carrying case (that works a heck of a lot better than a crinkled Mountain Dew can). A few up and down motions and you'll be siphonin' away. The handy stopper clip maintains siphoning even when in the "off" position, so there's no need to begin the process all over again between container transfers to your tank. The included super soak towel quickly cleans up any excess spills and everything fits neatly back into the transfer container/carrying case. Carrying case is 10.1"x2.6"x1.25" and holds 1/8 gallon of gas. Siphon is 68" long. Entire system weighs less than 4 oz.

AEROSTICH TOW-N-TIE

If you venture into terrain and trails off the road, you know the importance of carrying a towstrap to get back to civilization in the event of mechanical difficulties. What sets this product apart is that they double as 1400 lb. rated tie downs. This can come in handy when you do get towed back to the highway, in case that guy (or gal) in the pickup you flag down is amenable to hauling your busted bike somewhere. Rolled up tight in their nylon bag, they measure just 8"x1.25", small enough to stow anywhere. Don't be forced to leave your bike on the side of the road. Be prepared to tie-down, strap-up or tow back anything, anywhere, any time. Includes two 73"x1" adjustable cam nylon web straps with looped ends and 8" strap loop on cam buckle.

BAR HARNESS

It's a fact that tying down a fully-faired motorcycle presents challenges when it comes to not crunching bodywork. Sometimes you can get up under the front to the lower triple tree, and sometimes you just can't, due to the angles and all that. Enter the Bar Harness. It's a compact unit with a polar fleece padded strap that crosses over the bike and slips over your bar grips. Loops off the ends of the harness for attaching standard tie downs keep them well away from any of that bustable, expensive plastic. Soft Cuff models use a sturdy red fabric cuff that quickly and easily loops over the handlebars. Cup versions use a polycarbonate cup, reinforced with steel in-lay, that fit over the end of the grips, preventing possible damage to softer grips and hold the cross straps further out on the bars to fit a wider variety of fairings. Constructed using 5500 & 1200 lb. tensile webbing. If you need it, you need it.

MINI LED ELECTRICAL MONITORS

Sensitive, weatherproof and vibration-proof three-LED monitors give a clear indication of your bikes battery condition or alternator output. The Voltage Monitor lets you know if your system is low, normal or over-charged, which is especially good to know when riding a smaller bike and using higher-load accessories like electric vests. The Charge Monitor lets you know if the alternator is supplying a steady flow of electricity, providing immediate battery charging feedback. Both LED units have epoxy encapsulated electronics and are housed in small, durable matchbook-sized cases that are easy-to-install with the included double stick adhesive. Use both in tandem to fully monitor your bikes electrical system. 1.5"×1"×.375.

AEROSTICH CANTILEVER WHEEL BALANCER

Avoid the expense and trouble of arranging tire changing services at a shop and gain the satisfaction of knowing the job was done perfectly (and is ready just when you need it). With this balancer and a couple of tire irons (plus a bead breaker for tubeless tires) anyone can get a precision balanced tire in a few minutes. Ultra-low friction bearings make the process very sensitive to the smallest change in weight and position for super accurate results. - Aluminum bearing adapters fit most motorcycle wheels with bearings in the hub, 17 to 30mm ID

- Save money and ensure your wheel balancing is done correctly

Why a Cantilever Wheel Balancer?

Years ago we sold a conventional wheel balancer. Big bolted-together sections of extruded aluminum, designed and made by a retired machinist. It worked great but was a little hard to store. Eventually the retired machinist stopped making them and we wanted an easier-to-store solution which didn't require borrowing extra jack-stands or chairs. Nobody had ever produced a cantilevered balancer. This one turned out better than we hoped...and remains completely unique. A few years ago legendary Harley Davidson flat track tuner Bill Werner (...see the AMA Hall of Fame) bought one and later reported: "Someone's finally come up with a better, smarter tool for balancing wheels. It's great!" You'll enjoy using this tool, even if you're not tuning pro race bikes. It's easier than other types and ultra-accurate.

AEROSTICH TITANIUM TAR ARNS

If you want to be able to change or repair a tube or tubeless tire while on the road, you'll need to pack along tire irons to get the tire off the rim. They don't call 'em irons for nothing...Conventional tire irons are plenty heavy, especially for something you may never use (except in your garage workshop), so we developed these high-tech supersonic aerospace versions to lighten your load and help you change tires in a swank, ultralight manner. Surprisingly there was quite a bit of trial-and-error and design detail work to get the exact best radii for the curved spoon ends.

Some irons make you fight with the job, but these work easily and make it harder to accidentally pinch a tube. One pair weighs only 6.4 oz., compared to 9-12 oz. for typical steel tire irons. Great for carrying on trips and for street, off-road, and dual sport riding. A super high-tech tool for a Stone Age job, these beauts are that rare combination of the exotic and utterly practical. 9.25" long. 3.2 oz each.

SELF-TAPPING CARBIDE TIRE STUDS

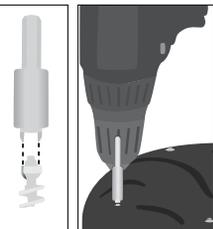

Ordinary low-budget sheet metal screws bite fine into ice but get ground away quick on paved surfaces. With sharp tips made of corrosion-proof, super hard, abrasion-resistant tungsten carbide, these ingeniously designed studs allow most of the tire's rubber to be in contact with clear pavement while providing increased traction over mixed snow or ice.

The best part is they're simple to install—the studs self-tap with the included bit that fits any power drill. Just mark your tire, screw in each one and you're ready to ride. For everyday winter riding,

Low Profile studs will keep you on the road.

The Off-Road is only for off-road / dirt riding. The Scooter studs are for scooter tires only. If you ride through the winter you'll have fun, your bike will horribly corrode, and everyone will think you're crazy. Perfect! Each set comes with an installation bit, instructions and 100 studs (50 per tire). More info on website.

Warning: Studded tires may not be legal in some jurisdictions. Check local laws.

Warning: Maximum studded tire grip on dry or wet pavement is reduced compared to non-studded tires. Ride with care while learning the capabilities of studded tires.

THREBOND SEAL 'N' AIR

Not necessarily the best way to repair a tire, but one that will get you to the next town or to a shady/protected area to do it right. Works by filling the tire with a foaming latex-like fluid that seals the hole, and will fill a tire to moderate pressure in around 20 seconds. (Bear in mind, however, that when you remove the tire for permanent repairs, it's gonna be full of this stuff. We warned you.) Tire pressure will increase gradually as you ride. Will not work on large holes or sidewall punctures. Attached fill hose.

Riding is a social good.

Part 1: The Missing Piece

Two pieces, actually...First, riding is a social good. Same as eating healthy, exercising and higher education. Everything we do that makes us stronger, clearer, smarter, and sharper means we can better help ourselves and our species. We become better husbands, wives, parents, and workers...better leaders and followers.

Riding motorcycles does all of this,...and it gets us from A to B with a smaller 'footprint', and saves us time, and reduces congestion and increases available parking. Win, win, win. Win.

So why isn't everyone riding?

Because it is harder. Sitting on a comfortable couch eating junk food, watching TV, smoking cigarettes, drinking, and uh,...it's all bad. As are cars, pizza and ice cream. But that stuff all feels sooooo good...and I like every bit of it, too.

The people selling us our cars, pizza and ice cream are not going to tell us those things are bad for us. And I'm keeping my car, pizza and ice cream. I'm already eating about as healthy, exercising as much, and riding as often as I can.

What's missing?

Incentives! I want to be rewarded for doing the right thing. Because, ahem... this is America! Everyone here deserves this.

There are only two meaningful incentives. (I already can easily ride in almost any weath er to almost any destination comfortably, efficiently and cost-effectively. Not enough.)

1. I also want to be able to save time filtering between all of the cars, just like riders in California ...and the entire rest of the world). It's statistically well-proven to be far safer for everyone, and it's super easy once you've done it a few times.

2. I'd also like some legal protection in case something goes wrong. Like a 'vulnerable road user' law for all us walkers, bicyclers, skaters, skateboarders and motorcyclers. For everyone who uses roads not surrounded by glass, metal and airbags. We all need the same level of legal protection highway workers in states like Michigan enjoy. "Kill a worker: $10,000 fine + a year in jail" roadside construction zone signs there read. We want that level of protection, too.

Those are the two missing pieces: Lane sharing ('splitting' or 'filtering') tolerance and Vulnerable Road User protection law.

It's that simple...

Part 2: How do we get there?

Begin with "all politics is local". There's no reason any municipality cannot enact a law to allow lane sharing and separately another to better protect vulnerable road users. Yes, such laws would be extremely tough to pass of course!, and anything like that is certain to be court challenged at state and federal levels. But this is where the pressures for reform and social change must begin.

Your city council and mayor can make it legal to filter through traffic on every road and surface street within their jurisdiction. And put up billboards and issue proclamations to educate the rest of the public.

Your town can pass laws to better protect vulnerable road users, too. Laws that encourage bicycling, walking, motorcycling and the other healthier ways of getting yourself from A to B.

Your city can become the most motor cycle, pedestrian and bicycle friendly place in the country, and can put up signage boasting this beside every road that enters your municipality. Messages welcoming and supporting all these better ways of living, and encouraging visitors and citizens alike to partake of such healthier mobility options.

Auto makers and sellers ...and many other strong stakeholders won't be happy such activities are being incentivized, though. It will take much courage, commitment and perseverance to effect these changes.

...but maybe someday sooner than you think your community will become an even better place to live than it is now.

Just sayin'

Riding is a social good.

Part 3: Follow-up and tactical considerations.

Bicycles have the moral high ground. Sweet pathways got built, lane widths were striped off, and cities vie for acknowledgment as most bicycle friendly.

This isn't a good fit with the world we've built. 100+ years of infrastructure investments and preferred lifestyle patterns. Pedaling can not be made practical for most. Too long commute distances, hills and the challenges of surrounding traffic are too much. America doesn't want to be the Netherlands. Denver cannot be Copenhagen.

Riders need three cities of 500K population or more, each with a few elected leaders willing to try. Mayors and councilors with motorcycles in their garages. The AMA, the MIC and Ride to Work should combine forces and target each with background strategic planning, campaign financing, quiet political lobbying, deal making, public education programs, and whatever else it takes.

Two of the chosen 'test' city efforts will fail. But one should succeed, and motorcycling will have established a working template for what is possible. A powerful model for all cities that shows everyone how to get others there.

Riding is a social good. Motorcycles and scooters offer the convenience, range and speed of cars, with a minimal eco/energy footprint and a broad range of personal health benefits.

They are more than toys for those with interest and discretionary funds.

If one big modern American city can incentivize riding, others will follow.

It could happen.

Future Fashion?

“If the many individual and societal benefits of riding motorcycles and scooters for everyday transportation become even a little more understood and appreciated, motorcycling’s fashions will change to reflect this. It’s hard to predict how or why any fashions shift, but they all do.

To most of the non riding public riding is reasonably well regarded, but today excessively loud performance and cruiser style bikes are notably less ‘cool’ than they were twenty years ago. The ascending ‘cool’ bike styles now are customized cafe type motorcycles and practical scooters. Also, adventure and overlanding motorcycle styles are more appealing to more riders than they were in the past.

The above moto-fashion shifts reflect changing economics as much as generational demographics. Today’s younger riders have both more limited resources, and a stronger interest in historic moto lifestyles than the previous generation. Separately, the recent explorer moto style ascension has been mostly due to riders being more emboldened by expanding cell phone coverage’s and GPS navigation technologies, and also perhaps from younger people in general being more world aware.

But all of these forms still project motorcycles as fashion, and motorcycles as toys. We really don’t know how to make the ‘motorcycles-as-medicine’ stuff happen. The riding is a ‘social good’ good piece. For both socio and psycho-biological reasons, I.E. there’s a combined individual and societal benefit to riding frequently.

In other areas, fashions of consumption have changed in exactly these ways. For example, healthier and more natural foods continue to become more fashionable probably because people are increasingly educated about nutrition, as obesity and other food related health problems have come up. And as industrialized food production and distribution simultaneously is making popular and mainstream food options less satisfying to larger segments of society. Not less tasty. Less satisfying in nutritional and other ways.

Similarly, as the most popular forms of personal transportation have become more homogenized and corporately dominated, they have also become less attractive to a larger number of people. Once, safety oriented cars like Saab’s and Volvo’s were out at the fringes of the car business. Now most cars are designed and sold like those Saabs or Volvo’s of years past.

Perhaps soon some of the larger players in motorcycling will offer consumers motorcycling to consume for positive and self enlightened reasons. Maybe they will present riding for utility and transportation as both a societal and an individual good, despite having offered somewhat similar versions of this in the past with only limited success.

One’s timing for stuff like this needs to perfectly match the zeitgeist. And it has almost nothing to do with the price of gas, or other economic elements. It has to do with increasing public awareness’s of previously unknown negative effects from today’s primary personal transportation options and fashions.

It’s interesting so many of the kids in their teens and twenties seem to get this perfectly. A lot more than their parents, anyway. They’d much rather have a 4K mountain bike than a car. When my contemporaries and I were their age, our response to that question would have been opposite.

This seems like a unique opportunity for increasing the numbers of transportation riders in wealthy and advanced countries. It is a chance for this type of everyday riding become more fashionable, for the first time ever.

If you ride only occasionally... Size 'M,' 'L' or 'XL' gear may be acceptable, but for years of everywhere riding, and on long trips, you'll appreciate the greater comfort a true fit provides.

We make Aerostich suits in 31 sizes... So your gear feels and wears much nicer. The difference between Aerostich sizes is less, and every size is also available in 'Short,' 'Regular' and 'Tall' versions. Fit makes every ride better.
